THE AUTHOR'S APOLOGY

It has long been my ambition to compile a complete History of the Taylor and Flynn families in and around East Feliciana Parish. In endeavoring to compile this History, I have met many almost unsurmountable obstacles. I had nothing to build on except the tombs of Isaac Taylor and his wife, Mrs. Mary Flynn Simpson, (nee Mary Flynn) in the old Taylor cemetery, and they had been buried there for more than a hundred years. None of the relatives that lived then, were living today, and few had family histories. It was almost an impossible task. I have traveled over a period of more than a hundred and fifty years and across thousands of miles, through many ways that wind and wind for the records used. The work was accomplished through the aid of relatives and friends. To all who made their contribution, I wish to express my sincere thanks. For any errors and omissions, I offer my apologies.

John Taylor Lewis

ISAAC TAYLOR

Born in Washington County, Penn. February 11, 1776, together with his father, Isaac Taylor, Sr., they moved to Kentucky, where they lived for three years in Fort Kenton. In 1788, they moved to Natchez, Mississippi, which was then only a Spanish Fort, commanded by DeBastrop. Soon after this, his father moved to the Attakapas country of Louisiana, where he lived until his death. He was buried in a little cemetery near the present town of Franklin, Saint Mary Parish. His son, Isaac Taylor, Jr. remained in Adams County, where in 1805 he married Mrs. Mary Flynn Simpson, (nee Mary Flynn). The same year he united with the Methodist Church. In 1819, he and his family moved to "Feliciana" Parish, Louisiana. This was before the Parish was divided into East and West Feliciana Parishes. The Court House in Clinton was built in 1823. Mr. Taylor died December 31, 1857. Age 81 years. Following is a copy of his funeral notice, and following this notice, I am giving in full a copy of his obituary which is one of the most beautiful I ever read. As part of this obituary is Historical, I have had it filed among the archives of "Methodism in Mississippi", where it is highly treasured. It shows that the first Methodist Church was at Natchez, Mississippi about 1805 instead of at old Fordville about 1815, as has been supposed for the last 100 years. The funeral notice and obituary follow:

FUNERAL NOTICE

The friends and acquaintances of the late Isaac Taylor are requested to attend his funeral at eleven o'clock A. M. tomorrow, January 1, 1858 at his late residence one mile South of Clinton.

ISAAC TAYLOR

We have to record the death of another pioneer of Methodism, in this Southern County. ISAAC TAYLOR, for more than half a century a consistent and zealous member of the church, died at his residence near Clinton, Louisiana on the 31st of December, 1857, in the eighty-first year of his age. He belonged to a class of men of whom but few are left, and those few rapidly passing away. Uniting the bold adventurous spirit of the pioneer, their indifference to hardships and patient endurance of privations, to the sterling piety, quenchless zeal and unalterable devotion to principle of the ancient covenanters, these men carried the axe and the Bible into the loneliest recesses of the wilderness, and while the forest disappeared beneath their stalwart blows and the rude cabin appeared in its stead, from the cabin often ascended the voice of prayer, and there some leading spirit of a little settlement, would often gather his neighbors around him upon the holy Sabbath, and read and expound to them the word of life with a fervid earnestness which won upon their simple natures, and carried conviction to their honest hearts. These were the pilgrim fathers of the South and West, a band no less noble than those whose names have hallowed the Mayflower and rendered Plymouth Rock a holy spot; yet they are sinking quietly to rest, and we take but little note of their departure, but they have left their mark upon the age in which they lived, and although their names may perish from the earth, and the history of their privations and sufferings never be written, their work will survive them and be the best and noblest monument to their memory.

The subject of this notice was born in Washington County, Pennsylvania on the 11th of February 1776. In 1785, his father, Isaac Taylor, Sr., moved to Kentucky, where he lived three years in Fort Kenton, the companion and friend of Simon Kenton and Daniel Boone, and the sharer of their hardships and perils. In 1788, he removed to Natchez, Mississippi then a Spanish Fort, commanded by DeBastrop. Never satisfied to remain long in one place, he soon moved again, the last time to the Attakapas country, in Louisiana, where he died and was buried near the present town of Franklin. The son remained in Adams County where in 1805, he married Mrs. Mary Simpson, and the same year joined the Methodist Church. The same active spirit which had made his father a restless wanderer, induced him to go to work in the new cause he had espoused, and a Society (probably the first ever organized in the state) was soon formed, which for ten or fifteen years, met at his house, he acting as class leader. In 1819, he came to the parish of East Feliciana, and settled upon the place where he has ever since resided. Soon after his removal, through his exertions another Society was organized, which met at his house until a Church (long known as "Old Union") was built in the neighborhood. Of this society he was class leader for twenty years. Although, as already stated, in his eighty-first year, he retained his faculties to a remarkable degree, his sight and hearing were but little impaired, and up to the commencement of his last illness which lasted but two weeks, he was actively engaged in attending to his business. His death was in accordance with his life—calmly and peacefully his sun went down. On being asked if he was ready for his change, which he had been informed must soon come: "Yes", said he, "I have nothing to do". What a contrast was this to the scenes too often presented at the bedside of the dying—the late repentance—the solemn promise of amendment if life should be spared—the agonized, despairing cry for mercy.

For more than fifty years this aged Christian had lived for this event, and when it came it found him ready—no injury unforgiven, no wrong unrepaired, no sin unrepented; like St. Paul, he felt that he had finished his course, and was now "ready to be offered up". Who would not say, "Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his"?

J. O. F.

MARY FLYNN TAYLOR

Wife of Isaac Taylor. Born March 15, 1781. Died November 9, 1833. Age 52 years. The old Flynn homestead was located about two miles North of Clinton, on the Liberty road. In later years it has fallen into other hands. There is a family cemetery on the plantation in which are buried many members of the family. Among some of these buried there, I found the following: John C. Flynn, Sr., born 1775. Died March 3, 1860. Age 85 years. This inscription is on his tomb: "An honest man is the noblest work of God". Mr. Flynn was a brother to Mary Flynn, wife of Isaac Taylor. And, I might add, incidentally, the great, great, grandfather of Mrs. Margaret Flynn Corcoran, wife of Mr. Tim L. Corcoran of Clinton. Also this tomb: Margaret Flynn. Born 1782.

Beauchamp

Died August 30, 1828. Age 45 years, 11 months 17 days. She was the first wife of John C. Flynn, and was formerly Miss Margaret Simpson. Mr. Flynn's second wife was Miss Elizabeth Wall. Mr. Flynn left no children by his last wife. The old Flynn home is an interesting one, built of hand hewn timbers, with quaint old iron hinges on the window shutters. The Flynn's were people of fine taste and refinement. The men folks especially, were said to have been great "dandies" in their dress and no "sticks" with the ladies. Isaac Taylor and his wife Mary Flynn Taylor are buried in the Taylor cemetery and their graves are marked with a granite monument, which serves for both he and his wife. On the side where he is buried are engraved the following words: "I have fought a good fight. I have finished my course. I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness which the Lord, the Judge, shall give me in that day". 2nd Timothy 7 and 8, "Children, follow me as I have followed Christ." On the opposite side where Mrs. Taylor is buried, are these words: "Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for my soul trusteth in God. He is my only Rock and my Salvation. I shall not be greatly moved". Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Taylor were pioneer citizens of the Parish. Soon after their arrival they established their home one mile South of Clinton, where they built a large two story residence. All of the timbers used in the construction of this house were hewn from the forest, and all of the lumber was dressed, tongue and grooved by hand, and the workmanship was of the highest type. There were no stoves used in those days, and large iron hooks hung in the chimney of the kitchen which, with the dining room was formed by an "L" from the house. The home was ideally located on a beautiful hill. The land both front and back was rolling. In front of the house—some little distance—was a beautiful Bayou, fed by bubbling springs that furnished an abundance of cool water for both man and beast. Along the banks, on both sides of this Bayou, grew magnificent Beech and Magnolia trees. Some of these Magnolias were said to have been almost a hundred feet tall and five feet in diameter. When I returned, years later, the home had burned and all of these beautiful trees had been felled. The majestic Cedars, Beech, Magnolias and Walnut, that stood out in front and under whose shades I used to play, all gone. Nothing was the same as it was when I lived there as a child. And then I wondered . . .

What lawless vandal foot had pressed, this nurtured spot of ground. These lovely acres where the trees were green the season round.

On a hillside, just South of their residence and across a small Bayou, Mr. Taylor laid out his family cemetery, where he and his wife, together with a large number of his descendants are buried. I walked over to this old cemetery under the pines where lay sleeping six generations. I stood there with uncovered head, and read again and again the post-mortem praise on their tombs. Truly great and good people, who helped to make their country's history. What a high privilege to have such a noble ancestry. What an impulse to give us aspirations for higher and nobler purposes of life. I turned and walked away, and as I did so, my thoughts went back to "Ike Marvel," a College Classmate of my uncle Tom, who, in his little volume, "Dream Life," and under similar circumstances, expressed his feelings in these words: "There the mossy marble rests, On the lips that I have pressed, in their bloom. And the names I loved to hear, have been carved for many a year, on the tomb".

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, were exemplary Christians. Their lives were an evangel, and their open hands a perpetual benediction. They left to bless the world, six children, who were a honor to their parents, and a credit to their name. Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Taylor, were truly great and good people As good as were born in their age and generation. The world has produced few like them.

ISAAC SIMPSON TAYLOR

Oldest child of Isaac Taylor and Mary Flynn, was probably born in Natchez, Mississippi about the year 1805. I am not giving this as an historical fact, but merely as a presumption. I have not discovered anything to refute it. Date of his death is unknown. He moved with his parents and the rest of his family to "Feliciana" Parish, Louisiana in 1819, where as stated elsewhere, his father settled one mile South of Clinton. Some few years later he moved to East Baton Rouge Parish, where he married Miss Alice A. Penny, a very lovely young lady and a great favorite with the family. Mr. Taylor owned and operated a large plantation just North of Baton Rouge known as "Ashland." The "Scenic" highway going North from Baton Rouge passes directly through his old plantation. It began at the corporate limits of the city and continued on through Scott's Bluff, now known as Scottlandville. It continued on out to the River, taking in the land where the present Southern University is located. One historian tells me that the old "Cordelia Oaks" property was at one time included in it. Just leaving Baton Rouge, all of this property is now covered with Tanks of the Standard Oil Company, known as their "Tank Farm". There is nothing now to show where his residence once stood, save, a single tree which can be seen from the Highway. Mr. Taylor's wife is buried in the old Plains cemetery. The tomb which was evidently intended for a double one, is bricked up some 2 or 3 feet from the ground, and covered with a large, heavy marble slab. Facing from the head, only one side of this slab contains an inscription which reads as follows: "Sacred to the memory of Alice A. Penny, consort of Isaac Simpson Taylor, born January 28, 1840. Died December 29, 1859". Following is the inscription on her tomb: "Alice, you are not forgot. The stone that hides your lovely form from our view, cannot hide your sweet image from our hearts. Tongue cannot tell how much we loved you. We love thy memory still. We know you are not lost but gone before. You cannot return to us, but we shall go to you".

If her husband was buried there afterwards, there is no inscription on the tomb. The tomb had partly crumbled in after years, but had been made secure by large bands of iron, securely placed around it. By whom the repairs were made, I do not know. Evidently by some one who cared. Mrs. Taylor died in child birth. They left one son, viz;

JOHN TAYLOR

Date of birth and death unknown. Married Elizabeth Ann Day, daughter of Dr. Richard H. Day, of Baton Rouge. She was born October 10, 1842. Died April 2, 1873. After her husband's death, she married Mr. James Vance, who died July 30, 1890. They left a daughter, Martha, who married Fletcher Rollins. After Mr. Taylor's death, he left her with an infant son. viz:

JOHN CULBERTSON

Born July 24, 1864. Died March 17, 1918. On March 6, 1885 he was married to Miss Mattie Gober Butler, of Clinton, Louisiana. She was born August 20, 1866. Died November 25, 1906. They left two children, viz:

JOHN BARKLEY

Born January 14, 1886. Died August 29, 1933. He never married.

MARTHA ELIZABETH

Born March 21, 1904. Date of death unknown. She married Elmer Watson Phillips. They left five children, whose names appear elsewhere.

LOUISA TAYLOR

Daughter of Isaac Taylor and Mary Flynn. Born November 1, 1806. Died at the home of her son, Isaac Taylor Felps, October 27, 1888. Her first marriage was to Joseph Felps, who was born December 10, 1796, and died April 7, 1839. After the death of her sister, Mrs. Eliza Taylor Green, she married Mr. Green who was a native of South Carolina. She left no children by her marriage to Mr. Green. "Aunt Lousia" as she was familiarly known, was a lovable Christian lady, and a favorite with her relatives. It was often said that she was the favorite of all of great grandfather's daughters. Every home was open to her when she came for a visit. By her marriage to Mr. Felps, she left the following children, viz:

ISAAC TAYLOR FELPS

Born January 12, 1828. Died January 8, 1906. Married Miss Catherine Riley, member of a prominent family of the Parish, who was born September 4, 1833. Died November 11, 1911. Their home was about three miles south of Clinton. Mr. Felps was for many years, active in the civic affairs of his Parish, and a member of the Police Jury. They are both buried in the Taylor cemetery. On Mr. Felps tomb are these words: "God's finger touched him and he slept". They left the following children, viz:

RILEY FELPS

Born August 23, 1854. Died June 10, 1940. He married Eudora Flynn, daughter of Isaac Flynn and Amanda M. Pipes, half sister to Hon. D. W. Pipes, who were married April 8, 1845. She died March 29, 1874 and is buried in the family cemetery North of Clinton. Some years after the death of his wife, Mr. Flynn moved to Dallas, Texas where he died and is buried. Mrs. Felps died April 4, 1918. She and Mr. Felps are buried in the Redwood Cemetery. Their children's names appear elsewhere.

MUNDAY FELPS

Born June 19, 1857. Died December 9, 1859. He is buried in the Taylor cemetery with the following inscription on his tomb: "How soon, alas, our brightest prospects fade".

LULA TAYLOR FELPS

Born October 7, 1859. Died November 28, 1901. She was married to Lucius N. Dixon, who was born November 30, 1847. Died August 19, 1909. They are both buried in the Taylor cemetery. Mr. Dixon was prominently connected in the Parish, and for many years was clerk of the Police Jury. They left five children, whose records appear elsewhere.

MATTIE FELPS

Born February 25, 1865. Died August 25, 1938. Married John Bostwick Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Valerio Henry Dunn, a very prominent family residing in the southern part of the parish. Their home was in Slaughter, Louisiana, where Mr. Dunn was Post Master for a long number of years. Mr. Dunn was born January 26, 1849. Died March 14, 1914. They are both buried in the Redwood Cemetery. They left eight children whose names appear elsewhere. At this point, I would like to digress just a bit for a brief historical sketch of Mr. and Mrs. Valerio Henry Dunn, parents of Mr. Dunn. He was born in Amite County, Miss., May 20, 1809. Died February 5, 1894. His wife, born Mary Ann Bostwick was a native of Vermont, and was born April 28, 1815 and died August 30, 1899. His father was also named Valerio Henry, and emigrated from one of the Carolinas or Virginia and settled in Amite County, Miss., where he married a Miss Elizabeth Scott, of whom I know nothing. About the year 1823, John and Susan Bostwick, Mrs. Dunn's parents, formed a partnership with a Mr. James Holmes, of West Feliciana, for the purpose of establishing the town of Clinton, which was to be the Parish seat of the new Parish of East Feliciana. In the articles of partnership, (which is a queer document, and is on file among the archives in the State House in Baton Rouge) it was stipulated that Holmes would donate $1,000.00 worth of town lots, and Susan Bostwick would do the same, because of the "natural love and affection" which she bore the children, and in consideration of the assistance of her husband, John Bostwick, in the business. Mr. and Mrs. Dunn had another daughter, Laura, who married a gentleman by the name of Sebor. John Bostwick and Mr. Sebor were the actual founders of the town of Clinton. They had bought up most of the land within the corporate limits, and built a small temporary Court House, Jail and Hotel. They laid out the streets and squares of a large city in prospect, but when the day came for throwing the lots on the market, there was nothing like an "oil boom" rush of purchasers. They had no big parade, brass bands and banners flying. Just a wilderness and cane break, with enough clearing to build a few log huts with puncheon floors. Business was bad-so bad that Mr. Bostwick became disgruntled, and traded all his wife's interest in the town for an interest in a patent right in an old iron plow. They moved back North and all trace of them has been lost. These people were all militant Methodists, and in a big revival meeting, once, one of the old ladies became converted. Immediately upon "coming through" gave away all her jewelry, and left off wearing her corset. This is the first time I ever heard that wearing a "lace jacket" was irreligious. The names of their children appear elsewhere.

JOHN TAYLOR FELPS

Born December 1, 1868. Married Miss Felicia Chapman, October 15, 1890. His wife was a member of a prominent family living just West of Clinton. Their home for a number of years has been in Slaughter, Louisiana. The record of their children appear elsewhere.

ELIZA TAYLOR GREEN

Daughter of Isaac Taylor and Mary Flynn. Born July 28, 1812. Married John N. Green of South Carolina. She died at the birth of her first child, Mary Eliza, January 14, 1846. She is buried in the Taylor cemetery, and on her tomb is this inscription; "As Autumn leaves before the driving gale." They left one child, viz;

MARY ELIZA

Born January 14, 1846, Died January 1876. After the death of her mother, her aunt, Mrs. Louisa Taylor Felps, her mother's sister, who was then a widow, and living in the home of her father, Isaac Taylor, took this motherless little baby to her heart and loved it as her own. After a time she married the father, John N. Green, fearing to lose the child, if he should marry some one else. This little child grew up in her grandfather's home, and received her education in Silliman Institute. After receiving her education, she married Mr. Wright Graham, a young man from Baton Rouge, and a few years later they moved up to Morehouse Parish, Louisiana, where we were all then living. After the death of uncle John Taylor, in November 1875, Mr. Graham managed his plantation. Mrs. Graham died in January 1876 and Mr. Graham soon after. To their union there was born a baby girl, viz;

10

EMMA GRAHAM

Born July 15, 1873. Died July 20, 1942. In 1876, Aunt Louisa and this little girl about 2 years old, together with our family, all moved back to south Louisiana. We moved back to the old Taylor home, which my mother had acquired in the division of property, and Aunt Louisa and Emma to the home of her son, Isaac Felts. So greatly beloved was Emma by Aunt Louisa, she never realized she was not her own mother. She and Aunt Louisa would come often for a weeks visit to my mother. My mother and Aunt Louisa would sit on our long front gallery on the summer afternoons, where they would sew and talk of bygone days while Emma and this writer would play out in front under the shade of the trees. The memory of those happy days have lingered with me across the years. Emma was raised and educated in the home of her Aunt Louisa's son, Isaac Taylor Felts. On March 22, 1892 she was married to Bowman Carney, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Carney, a highly connected family, living near Slaughter. Mr. Carney died November 22, 1941. A record of their children appears elsewhere.

LAURA FELPS MUNDAY

Daughter of Joseph and Louisa Felts, and sister of Isaac Felts, was born September 12, 1824. Died August 20, 1866. She was married to Maj. George W. Munday, a very prominent citizen of the Parish, and for a number of years a member of the State Legislature. She is buried in the Taylor cemetery, and the following inscription is on her tomb: "Weep not for me my children dear. I am not dead but sleeping here. I was not yours, but Christ's alone. He loved me best and took me home". When a young lady, my mother boarded with Mr. and Mrs. Munday and attended school at Silliman Institute. Some years after the death of his wife, Maj. Munday was remarried to a Miss Sallie Daniels, a young lady who was teaching at Silliman Institute. By this last marriage, he left two children, Daniel and Bessie. "Dan" married Miss Mary Bell, of near Midway, and Bessie married McVea Young, a young druggist of Clinton, and they afterward located at Pascagoula, Mississippi. They are all dead except Dannie's widow, who lives in Baton Rouge. I received a letter from her recently. She cherishes a sweet memory of her relatives. Dannie, Bessie and I attended school together at Mrs. Munday's "Academy". Mrs. Munday was a most unusual lady and an experienced educator. She gave of her time and means, freely to educate the youth of her community. Many a book has she bought for the poor boys and girls attending her school. As a child, I used to love to visit their home. Maj. Munday, by his first marriage, left the following children, viz;

GEORGE MUNDAY, JR.

Date of his birth and death unknown. He was married to Miss Helen Morris of Woodville, Mississippi. They left two children, and their record appears elsewhere.

SALUDA MUNDAY

Date of birth and death unknown. She was married to Mr. Palmer Andrews. They left a large family, but I am unable to get a record of their names.

Laura Leal

LOLLIE MUNDAY

Date of birth and death unknown. She was married to Mr. John M. Beauchamp. They left several children, but am unable to get a record of their names.

MARY MUNDAY

Born December 16, 1848. Died March 16, 1930. She was married to William E. Woodward, who was born March 8, 1847. Died December 13, 1927. Mr. Woodward was for a number of years, sheriff of his Parish, and during the years of reconstruction, when the Parish was under "Carpet Bag" rule and a negro, John Gair, was sheriff, and it was necessary to have a white man as office deputy, Mr. Woodward served in this position with acceptability to all. These were the days that "tried men's souls." Every officer in the town and Parish was a negro. In the old Dominick building, down near the depot, President Grant had stationed a Company of soldiers to protect the rights of the negro office holders, and force the white people to keep themselves "within due bounds". This was known as the "Freedmans Bureau". Many indignities did we suffer at their hands. The slightest overt act from a white person, that could in any way be construed as an infringement upon a negro's rights were promptly arrested, haled before the Provost Marshall. Any defense offered was useless. We were promptly sentenced to jail on bread and water. Mr. and Mrs. Woodward are buried in the Taylor cemetery. The names of their children are given elsewhere.

11

JOHN CULBERTSON ISAAC FLYNN TAYLOR

Son of Isaac Taylor and Mary Flynn was born in East Feliciana Parish, Louisiana September 4, 1825. Died in Morehouse Parish, Louisiana, in October, 1875. He married Miss Ann Penny Dreher of East Feliciana, who was born November 8, 1835. She was a member of an outstanding family living in the Southern part of the Parish. Her sister married Mr. James Irwin, who was a brother of Dr. Emmett L. Irwin, an outstanding physician and surgeon for many years, and at one time a member of the State Senate. No one was better beloved than Dr. Irwin. Several years after Mr. Taylor's marriage, he and his family moved to Morehouse Parish, where he lived until his death. I have the original of a letter that his father, great grandfather Taylor, wrote to him, dated November 9th, 1857. It is one of my treasures. The old gentleman expressed himself well. Spoke of the weather, crops, buying land, the health of the community and the little "niggers". As I remember Mr. Taylor, he was a very large man with rosy complexion. The author of this little history was named for him. I have his picture hanging on the wall in my bed room. It has been there for many years. Mrs. Taylor, "Aunt Penny" we always called her, died in Los Angeles, California, in 1912. The names of their children appear elsewhere.

ARNOLD TAYLOR

Son of Isaac Taylor and Mary Flynn, date of birth unknown. Died August 19, 1840. He is buried in the Taylor cemetery. He died unmarried.

MARY CAROLINE

Daughter of Isaac Taylor and Mary Flynn, was born September 20, 1812. Married to Absolem Cleveland, son of

"Uncle" Daniel Cleveland, a lineal descendent of Oliver Cromwell, the "great protector", on May 27, 1827. She married at the age of 15 and was left a widow at 25. Mr. Cleveland was born August 15, 1802. Died September 17, 1834, and is buried in the Taylor cemetery. Mrs. Cleveland died in Homer, Louisiana, November, 1870, and is buried there. She was a very large lady weighing over two hundred pounds. The family called her "Tiny". The names of their children follow:

JOHN WESLEY

Born February 20, 1828. Died in Morehouse Parish, Louisiana, in 1859 and was buried there. He never married.

DAVID ALEXANDER

Born May 2, 1831. Died in 1863 from the effects of Camp fever contacted in the battle of Vicksburg. On the night of October 12, 1854 he was married to Miss Mary Mills of Clinton, Louisiana. They left one son, Mills Cleveland, born October 12, 1855. Date of death unknown. He never married.

MARY FLYNN

Born October 21, 1829. Died November 11, 1831. She is buried in the Taylor cemetery with this inscription on her tomb: "She Sleepeth".

ALMENA DUNN

Born March 2, 1833. Died November 20, 1907, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. O. E. Townsend, ten miles south of Clinton and was buried in the Taylor cemetery the following day. The services were conducted by the Rev. W. H. Coleman, pastor of the Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. William Schule, pastor of the Methodist Church at Jackson. Her first marriage was to Mr. J. B. P. Poole, druggist in Clinton, who was born in Spartanburg, South Carolina November 1, 1818. Her marriage was at the home of her mother, October 9, 1852. Mr. Poole died in Clinton, June 3, 1856. He is buried in the Taylor cemetery with this inscription on his tomb: "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy". "There's not a garden path I tread, there's not a flower I see. But brings to me some love that's fled. Some joy I've lost with thee." The funeral of Mr. Poole was held from the family residence in Clinton, at 5 o'clock June 3rd, conducted by the Masonic Fraternity; Odd Fellows and the Clinton Protective Fire Company. They left two children, viz;

Beauchamp

ALECK CLEVELAND

Born January 7, 1853. Died September 1889. He never married.

JOSEPH ALMENA

Born June 28, 1856. Died July 3, 1865.

Her second marriage was to Rev. Henry Taliaferro Lewis, son of John Taliaferro Lewis, who for many years was clerk of the South Carolina District in which he lived, and grandson of John Lewis, who emigrated from Wales to America in 1640. He and his brother, David, fled from Wales on account of religious persecution. He was a soldier in the American Revolution, and stood by the side of General Washington when Cornwallis surrendered his Army at the battle of Yorktown. He was born in Pendelton, South Carolina in 1823, and is buried at Coushatta, Louisiana, where he died on November 4, 1870. He joined the Mississippi Conference in 1847. His ministry grew in popularity and power, and the history of Methodism records him as one of the grandest characters produced by Southern Methodism in the Ante-bellum days. For many years he was the "Father Mathew" of the Southwest. His exhaustless fund of incident and anecdote, his inimitable drollery, his wonderful memory, his remarkable histrionic talent commanded immense audiences, and made him a master of assemblies. Mr. Lewis studied law early in life, but having made a profession of religion at the time he was admitted to the bar, refused a partnership with one of the ablest lawyers in Mississippi, preferring to be an exponent of the sublime truths of the Gospel to that of Blackstone. They were married in Clinton, Louisiana, October 16, 1861. They left the following children:

ANN HARDEE

Twin sister of Janie Dunn, born in Clinton, Louisiana, June 30, 1862. Died in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, January 8, 1925. On November 18, 1884 she was married to Dr. Albert J. Roberts, at the home of her mother, the Rev. C. A. Powell, officiating. Dr. Roberts died at the home of his son, Percy E.

Roberts, in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, October 28, 1929. He and his wife were buried in Roseland Park cemetery in Baton Rouge. The names of their children appear elsewhere.

JANIE DUNN

Twin sister of Ann Hardee, born in Clinton, Louisiana, June 30, 1862. Daughter of Rev. Henry Taliaferro Lewis and Almena Dunn Cleveland. At the home of her mother on January 29, 1883, she was married to Mr. O. E. Townsend. Mr. Townsend was for many years a leader in religious work in his Parish. He was one of the founders of the old Bluff Creek Camp Meeting. He was Superintendent of the Sunday School and Stewart in the Oak Grove Church for more than fifty years. No one was better known and loved than "Redas" Townsend. He is buried in the Masonic cemetery in Clinton, Louisiana. The names of their children appear elsewhere.

WESLEY CLEVELAND

Son of Henry Taliaferro Lewis and Almena Dunn Cleveland, born May 12, 1866. Died January 20, 1889. He is buried in the Taylor cemetery. Married Miss Ada C. Dearing, December 19, 1886. Date of the death of his wife unknown. They left one daughter, Almena Cleveland, born March 11, 1889. She married Raleigh Ives, November 19, 1909. Their children's record appear elsewhere.

HAL BRIGHAM

Son of Rev. Henry Taliaferro Lewis and Almena Dunn Cleveland, born in 1867. Died and buried in Morehouse Parish, Louisiana, April 2, 1874.

JOHN TAYLOR

Son of Rev. Henry Taliaferro Lewis and Almena Dunn Cleveland, born in Homer, Louisiana, October 16, 1869. I'll never forget it. Married Miss Mary Lucy White, daughter of Lorenzo and Kate Pricilla White in Lebanon, Tenn. January 15, 1896. The ceremony was said at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Judge and Mrs. Benjamin J. Tarver. Rev. Wyckliff Weakly, pastor of the First Methodist Church officiating. Mrs. Lewis had been there attending college, where her brother-in-law, Mr. James S. Waterhouse, was Dean of Cumberland University. They have the following children:

JOHN TALIAFFERO

Born in Utica, Mississippi, October 12, 1904. He is now a practicing physician and surgeon in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. He never married.

MARY LUCY

Born in Jackson, Louisiana, June 15, 1909. Married Mr. Jewell W. Pigott of Tylertown, Mississippi, July 5, 1937. They have one daughter, viz;

MARY ELIZABETH

Born September 28, 1941.

ADDENDA

In the latter part of the seventeenth and the early part of the eighteenth century, when the tide of immigration began to trickle in from Georgia, the Carolinas, Virginia and other Eastern States, to "Feliciana" parish, it was much larger then than now. It was said to have been the largest county in the United States. It began on the Mississippi River and extended eastward forty miles east of Mobile, Alabama, taking in the entire Gulf Coast. It was larger than the States of Rhode Island and New Hampshire combined. At that time all of this vast territory was a cane break and unbroken wilderness—a veritable "forest primeval" where the "deep voiced neighboring ocean, answered the wail of the forest". Its principal inhabitants were wolves, bears, deer, panthers and poisonous reptiles. These pioneers who came here to settle their new homes under a Spanish grant, began to make their clearings in the dense cane breaks with a hatchet. They worked by day and slept in the forks of trees at night. After the town of Clinton was surveyed and its streets laid out, the first building to be erected was a log cabin with punch-eon floors on Bank Street, near where the old store of Rudolph Caro stood. As late as 1823 it was said to still be in good repair. It was built by Mr. Louis Yarborough from Georgia. Coming to this country with Mr. Yarborough, were Joseph, David, James and Thomas Felps, and also James Higganbotham and Charles Ingraham, all from Elbert County, Georgia. Mr. Ingraham was a mechanical genius and to him went the honor of building the first grist and saw mill. Mr. Ingraham cleared and settled the plantation that was later owned by Mr. Isaac T. Felps. Mr. Higganbotham was Master of the first Masonic Lodge in Clinton-Olive Lodge Number 52. A little later, as immigration continued to move in, that sturdy old frontiersman, Isaac Taylor, established his home one mile south of Clinton. There came about the same time from South Carolina, "Uncle" Daniel Cleveland, a lineal descendant of Oliver Cromwell, the great protector. "Uncle" Daniel's son, Absolem, married my grandmother, Mary Taylor, daughter of Isaac and Mary Flynn Taylor. He came with all of his earthly possessions packed in a Tobacco hogshead. In his new home, he raised a numerous and powerful family, that grew and prospered exceedingly. "Uncle" Daniel was a model Democrat of the "Old Hickory" type, who in later years, boasted that he had never voted a scratched or folded ticket, and before his death had a word of forgiveness for all his enemies, except the "ruffled shirt-ed" Whigs. All the incidents recorded in this little history were long before "horse and carriage" days. People traveled but little, and then on horse back or walked. All hauling was by ox wagon. Churches were few and far between, with services perhaps once or twice a year. Churches were built with stairs in the rear that led to a gallery where the slaves sat at the service. No organs to furnish music and tunes were pitched with tuning forks. The men occupied the "amen" corner. Dinner was brought along and served on the ground. The congregation walked three and four miles. I recall one service where the preacher walked eight miles. I have seen great revivals in these old churches that stirred the whole community. I have seen men go down to the altar, fall under deep conviction of sin, and come away "new creatures in Christ Jesus". There was a family Altar in every home. Men wore beards and boots. The girls wore high top shoes and skirts well below their ankle. The ladies wore trails, petticoats, hoop skirts, balmorals and "bustles."

And now, as I bring to a close this little history of our ancestors, I have fulfilled a long cherished ambition. Though imperfect as it is, I am proud indeed, that in going back for more than a century and a half, delving into the ancient archives of the past, I have found the record of their lives as white as snow. To us "they fling the torch. Be ours to hold it high". May we all "so live that when the summons comes to join the innumeral caravan, which moves to that mysterious realm, we go not like the quarry-slave at night, scourged to his dungeon, but sustained and soothed by an unfaltering trust, approach our grave, like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams".

Looking back today upon my own life of more than three score years and ten, my only wish is "To live in my house by the side of the road. Where the race of men go by. The men who are good and the men who are bad, as good and as bad as I. I would not sit in the scorner's seat. or hurl the cynic's ban. Let me live in my house by the side of the road, and be a friend to man".

Historiography

This Coat of Arms was officially recorded in ancient heraldic archives. Its design is the only one of its kind in existence. The written heraldic description is worded in the language developed by the heralds as it appears in the records. The first use of a Coat of Arms was for identification on the battlefield. Many times deeds of valor were recorded with a memorable symbol. The fact of the recording of a Coat of Arms means its bearer's surname had its origin at least as far back as medieval times. As not everyone was granted a Coat of Arms, it also means the family name was singled out ages ago to be lifted from conformity and personal extinction. As many people of the same name are unrelated, we have not traced anyone's individual family tree to obtain the information in this report. It should be remembered, however, that many people may be direct descendants of a particular bloodline and be unknown to each other. Although bearers of this old and distinguished family name comprise a small fraction of the population, a surprising number of them have gained world-wide recognition. Space here permits only the listing of a scant few of its famous members, they include:

WALTER de BEAUCHAMP (d. 1236) Son and heir of William de Beauchamp, Lord of Elmley, Worcester, and hereditary castellan and sheriff of Worcester. Appointed itinerant justice (1226). GUY de BEAUCHAMP (d. 1315). A Lord Ordainer, succeeded his father, William, Earl of Warwick, Grandson of Walter (above). Received grants of estates in Scotland for bravery at Falkirk (1298). THOMAS de BEAUCHAMP (1382-1439) Earl of Warwick, with John of Gaunt on French campaign (1385). Beauchamp allied himself with the nobles against the king (1387) and was imprisoned in the Tower of London (1397). Freed after the accession Henry II. HENRY de BEAUCHAMP (1425-1445) Duke of Warwick. Created Premier Earl by patent April, 1444. Crowned King of the Isle of Wight by Henry II. ALPHONSE de BEAUCHAMP (1767-1832) French historian and man of letters. Charged with the supervision of the press. JOSEPH de BEAUCHAMP (1742-1801) French astronomer; noted as Savant. Friend and pupil of Lalande. Consul at Muscat, Arabia, 1795. WILLIAM MARTIN BEAUCHAMP (1830-1925) American archaeologist; historian of Iroquois Indians. Associated with New York State Museum.

As is evident, this family name is a very old and distinguished one. The above is but a mere hint of its illustrious history.

DE CLARE—BEAUCHAMP

XII

MARGARET DE CLARE, daughter of Gilbert and Joan de Clare, married (first), Piers Gaveston, Earl of Cornwall; (second) Hugh de Audley, Earl of Gloucester. (See Royal Descent XXIX, and De Audley V.)

BEAUCHAMP

Arms—Gules, a fesse or.

The baronial house of Beauchamp of Bedford was founded at the Conquest by Hugh de Beauchamp, who received a barony in Bedfordshire. His eldest son Simon left a daughter whose husband Hugh (brother of the Count of Meulan) was created Earl of Bedford by Stephen.

The Beauchamps of Emley, Worcestershire, the greatest house of the name, were founded by the marriage of Walter de Beauchamp, a descendant of Henry de Beauchamp (who came to England with William the Conqueror), with the daughter of Urise d'Abetot, a Domesday baron, which brought him the shrievalty of Worcestershire, the office of a royal steward, and large estates. His descendant, William, is mentioned below.

I

WILLIAM DE BEAUCHAMP, a descendant of Henry de Beauchamp, was of Emley, County Worcester. He became Earl of Warwick through his marriage to Isabel Mauduit, sister and heir of Sir William Mauduit, Earl of Warwick.

II

WILLIAM DE BEAUCHAMP, born in 1237, was Earl of Warwick in 1267-68, inheriting Warwick Castle, which remained with his descendants in the male line until 1445. He was Constable of Rockingham Castle in 1297; and Councillor of Regency from 1297 to 1298. He married Maud Geoffrey, daughter of John Fitz-John Geoffrey of County Berks.

III

✓GUY DE BEAUCHAMP, who succeeded his father as Earl of Warwick in 1298, served in Scotland and distinguished himself at Falkirk. He married Alice de Toni, daughter of Ralph de Toni of Flanistead, Hertfordshire. (See de Toni VIII.)

IV

THOMAS DE BEAUCHAMP, Earl of Warwick, born in 1313, succeeded his father in 1315, and was Ambassador to France and to the Pope, 1342-43; Marshal of England in 1344; Marshal of the Army in France in 1346, distinguishing himself at Crecy and Poitiers; was Knight of the Garter in 1344; and Commissioner to Scotland in 1367. He rebuilt Warwick Castle, and his son Thomas erected the tower of that castle, known as Guy's Tower. He married, in 1337, Katherine de Mortimer, daughter of Roger de Mortimer, Earl of March. (See Mortimer X.) Among his children was Philippa, of whom further.

V

PHILIPPA DE BEAUCHAMP, daughter of Thomas and Katherine (de Mortimer) de Beauchamp, married Hugh de Stafford, Earl of Stafford. (See Stafford X.)

FITZ-ALAN

Arms—Gules, a lion rampant or enraged azure.

Crest—On a mount vert a horse passant argent, in the mouth an oak branch proper.

The Fitz-Alan family, which for some two centuries held Arundel, the premier earldom of England, came of the same Breton house from which was derived the Royal House of Stuart. Henry I granted to his second wife the "honour" of Arundel, to which the castle was the head and which comprised a large portion of County Sussex. After the death of Henry I she married William "de Albini" (i. e., d'Aubigny), who from about 1141 is variously styled Earl of Sussex, of Chichester, or of Arundel or even Earl William de Albini. His male line became extinct in 1243, and in the partition of his estates the castle and honour of Arundel went to his second sister's son, John, of whom further.

I

JOHN FITZ-ALAN, married (first) Isabel, daughter of William de Albini, Earl of Arundel, and co-heir of her brother Hugh, Earl of Sussex. (See Albini III.)

II

JOHN FITZ-ALAN, Lord of Clun and Oswaldestre, County Salop, was awarded in right of his mother the Castle and Honour of Arundel and became Earl of Arundel. He married Maud de Verdon, daughter of Rhys de Verdon.

III

JOHN FITZ-ALAN, Lord of Clun and Oswaldestre, and Earl of Arundel, married Isabel de Mortimer, daughter of Roger de Mortimer, Lord of Wigmore.

1346, distinguishing himself at Crecy and Poitiers; was Knight of the Garter in 1344; and Commissioner to Scotland in 1367. He rebuilt Warwick Castle, and his son Thomas erected the tower of that castle, known as Guy's Tower. He married, in 1337, Katherine de Mortimer, daughter of Roger de Mortimer, Earl of March. Mrs. Laura Lelal Beauchamp, a former resident of Pascagoula for the past 18 years, died on Friday night, December 12, 1941, after a brief illness, her death occurring at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. J. Hollister on Beach Boulevard. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon from the home, with interment, in Greenwood Cemetery. The service was conducted by Rev. K. W. Ulmer, pastor of the Methodist church, the choir of that church singing softly, the old familiar hymns, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and the "Old Rugged Cross", as part of the church service. The following were the pall bearers: J. W. Cox, Roy Wingfield, Bill Helm, H.B. Canty, Johnny Hale and V. L. M. Dejean.

The Hollister home was a bower of beauty and fragrance, the floral offering of many friends and relatives, in token of the esteem in which the deceased was held. A large number of friends and relatives followed the remains to the grave where they were tenderly laid to rest and the grave covered with a blanket of flowers.

Mrs. Beauchamp was 86 years of age and was a member of one of the oldest families in Louisiana, being the daughter of the late Major G. W. Munday, a planter and citizen of East Feliciana Parish, Louisiana. She graduated from Silliman Female Institute of Clinton at age 16 years of age and she had many friends who loved her for these womanly virtues that she possessed in a superlative degree.

Surviving are three sons and three daughters, Everett Lawrence Beauchamp, Emmitt Beauchamp, McEney Beauchamp of Clinton, LA; Mrs. I. T. Dixon, of Clinton and Mrs. W. J. Colle and Mrs. J. J. Hollister, Pascagoula. Also surviving are 26 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.
